From the Committee

Eventing Queensland Clubs have done it tough this year.

In the first three months of the competition season, three events were affected with weather, causing two to be shortened and one to be cancelled.

And now the Hendra Virus is placing another toll on our Organising Committees.

We are about to enter Queensland's International competition season. Over the next three months, our three FEI events will be run. One at Fig Tree Pocket, one at Warwick, and the Queensland International Three Day Event and the Eventing Queensland State Eventing Championships at Noosa. To 'mandate' or 'not-to-mandate' is a decision that each of these clubs is making after hours of deliberation. We must all take comfort in the fact that these Organising Committees are all planning great events where every riders, horses and attendees at the events can feel safe.

These Organising Committees are volunteers who go to extreme lengths, and give up an enormous amount to prepare and run these events.

If you feel strongly about the decisions that they have made, I would encourage you to join an Organising Committee, and offer to help prepare for an event. It will only be then that you realise the extent of work that is asked of these committees, and the tough decisions they deliberate over in the course of running an event.

As a rider, the choice will always be yours.

Eventing Queensland Teams have also entered the International competition season. $100 for each team member will go to the team that has the lowest combined penalties from all three international events.

See you all at Fig Tree.

ROD BROWN CLINIC

Rod Brown visited Queensland in early July for a Jumping Clinic at Kelecyn Equestrian Centre, sponsored by Eventing Queensland. Squad Riders and Equestrian Queensland members attended, each taking from the clinic something to work on and improve their jumping skills.

Squad riders have commented on how much they enjoyed their time with Rod.

"I really enjoyed my lesson shared with Sandy as it benefited me in so many ways! We were on our way to Quirindi 3DE and I found the simple drills of doing lots of forwards and backs to get my horse responsive very helpful! And also a subtle change in the position of my hands made my horse listen to me more and not hollow coming into a fence which enabled Ace and I to have a very good ride cross country and showjumping in the CCI." —Emily Rink*

"I was lucky enough to have 2 lessons with him on completely different horses as well as spectate for several lessons. Although he used the same fences and exercises in all of the lessons, he was able to adapt certain exercises/jumping lines for each individual combination in order to work on any weaknesses. Horse and rider combinations were pushed outside of their comfort zone without being overfaced and the mantra of smooth, consistent riding and minimising interference over a fence was emphasised at all times. Coaching along these classical guidelines is exactly what squad riders require and appreciate. I sure I am not alone in being grateful for the opportunity to train with a national coach such as Rod and also in looking forward to doing so again next season." — Eleanor Osborne

"I thoroughly enjoyed the clinic, it was very educational, useful and fun. I certainly found it very helpful and beneficial with my Horses." — Charlotte Price

Thanks for this feedback. We anticipate having more clinic like this next year, where the squad riders and Equestrian Queensland members will have the benefit of coaching from some of the best equestrian coaches in the country. Keep your eye on OnCourse for information about these clinics.

SHOWJUMPING PHASE OF A ONE DAY EVENT

The show jumping phase at a One Day Event is similar to an ordinary Jumping Competition. It's main objective is to prove that, the Horse and Athlete are well trained in the specialist discipline of Jumping.

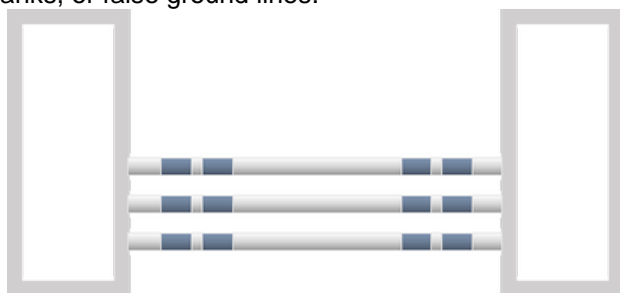

A horse's courage and carefulness are tested by visually challenging fences. You will find there are many variations of fences. Course builders use different jumps to test riders' and horses' ability.

The nature of the course, its length, the speed demanded and the dimensions of the obstacles will be in accordance to the height for the class you have entered.

Below are a few examples of different fences, but there are unlimited combinations of colours, fills, you name it.

Vertical

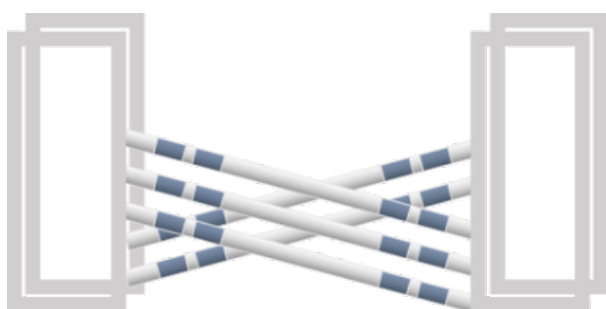

The vertical is a basic upright fence. There are variations of course, including different "fills", the inclusion of planks, or false ground lines.

Vertical

Swedish Oxer

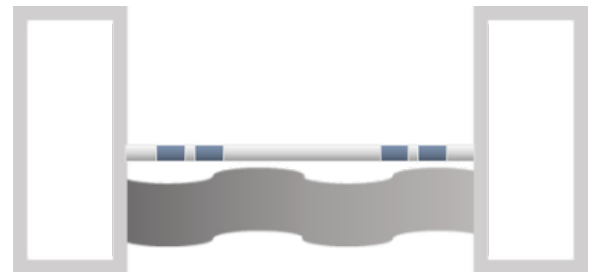

This is an oxer, however the poles are crossed over to have a visual impression on the horse. Young or inexperienced horses may find the crossing of the poles visually confusing. In this case, you would possibly choose to ride more forward into the jump to provide your horse with more confidence and encourage him to jump the fence. A Swedish Oxer is measured at the lowest point where the rails "intersect".

Swedish Oxer

Planks

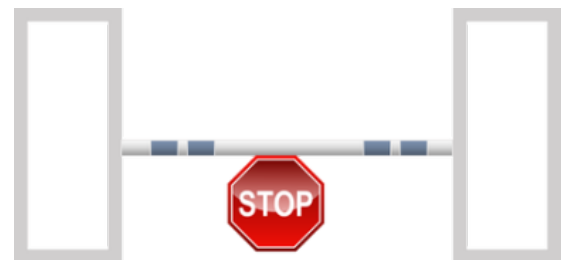

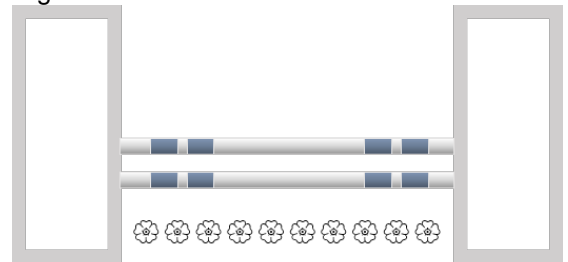

Planks are similar to a vertical however the poles are upright planks on flat cups. Planks are easily knocked down with the slightest rub from the horse. Riders can sometimes become stressed approaching planks as they know how easily they can be tipped off the cups, and hence tense up the horse, and they end up getting a plank down anyway. It's best to remain calm and ignore the fact it is a plank in the first place! Planks can come in variations, such as "wavy planks" which further test the horse's ability to manage visually challenging jumps.

Planks

Fills

Below are just two examples of fills. They can be anything!

Fills can be anything at all!

Scoring

Fault	Penalty
Knocking down a rail	4 penalties
First Run-out or refusals	4 penalties
2 nd Run-out or refusal – Star Classes	Elimination
2 nd Run-out or refusal – EvA105 and below	8 penalties
3 rd Run-out or refusal – EvA105 and below	Elimination
Fall of Athlete or Horse	Elimination

Completing the course in less than the time allowed is not rewarded, but exceeding the time allowed is penalised by one penalty for each commenced second in excess of the time allowed, up to the time limit, which is twice the time allowed. Exceeding the time limit involves elimination.
