

Horse lovers are you interested in:-

'Feeding for fun and profit'?

and,

'Saving $'s on vet bills' ?

All EQ, EA, PC members and horse owners are invited to attend a lecture on

Wednesday February 18th

6.30pm – 8.30pm

Stuartholme School Auditorium

Birdwood Terrace, Toowong.

Elizabeth Owens B Sc Agric (Hons) will debunk a lot of the feeding myths and wives tales by lecturing on strategies that keep horses and ponies healthy and sound longer. Appointed to the Rural Industries Research and Development Corporation committee for Equine Research, Elizabeth has been involved in many areas of horse nutrition. She co-authored 'Horse Sense' with Dr Peter Huntington and Jane Myers and also contributed a chapter on equine nutrition to Animal Physiotherapy by Dr Cathy McGowan and Narelle Stubbs. Elizabeth is an engaging and very knowledgeable presenter who has been the keynote speaker at the Australian Equine Science Symposium. Liz is a rider herself and mother of an IQ Equestrian rider.

Dr Nathan Anthony. Nathan joined the Australian Equestrian Team as the Eventing Team vet in 2013. Nathan started his career in mixed practice in South Australia working with all animals, large and small. He then branched into Equine practice, working in the UK for some time before relocating to WestVETS in Anstead where he has been based since 2002. Nathan's main fields of interest and expertise are the diagnosis and treatment of lameness in performance horses and equine surgery. Nathan also has extensive experience in Equine Reproduction and he thrives on the hectic workload of the reproductive season. Nathan is also the father of horse mad girls so he is immersed in the challenges of horse health from the very amateur to the world class professional.

Attendance: please advice by email to astarosta@stuartholme.com by Tuesday 17th February

COST $ 15 per person payable on the night.

BBQ free sausage sizzle and soft drinks provided from 6.00pm