On Course

September 2014

from the Committee

We are getting excited about 2015 already.

- The calendar for One Day Events has been prepared, and is now sitting with Equestrian Queensland for their consideration
- We are planning to ramp up the Clinics scheduled for next year. These will be available for squad members and non-squad members.
- Rider representation attending the committee meetings, to tell us how it really is
- We have applied for grant funding to purchase improved resources which will be available to clubs for their competitions next year.

But 2014 is not over yet!

Make sure you get your entry in for the 2014 Eventing Queensland State Championships, this year being held at the Fig Tree Pocket grounds. Entries are via Nominate, with classes from EvA80 to CIC Two Star.

Then Toowoomba and Tamborine have another event before the Queensland contingent will head to Adelaide.

Later in November we will celebrate the great achievements of our riders at the Eventing Queensland Awards night. The night will be returning to the Wilson's home. Darren and family have very kindly offered to host the event, and for that we are very grateful. Read on for more information.

Happy riding ☺

For Your Information

PIC NUMBERS

To compete at an ODE, you will at some point be required to provide a Property Identification Code Number.

If you are unsure of what yours is or do not have one you can get it online for FREE!

Go to www.daff.qld.gov.au > Animals > Identifying, moving and selling livestock > National Livestock Identification System > Property Registration

REMINDER

Queensland Eventing competitions run under the national eventing rules. A complete copy of the rule books are available on the Equestrian Australia website in a clean version or one which highlight any recent changes. Both versions are in PDF format which can be printed or downloaded to any device, including Smart Phones!!!

Go to www.equestrian.org.au > Sports > Eventing > Rules and Regulations.

Eventing Queensland is calling for Expressions of Interest to form a Two Star Young Riders team at the Adelaide competition in November. Eventing Queensland will make a financial contribution to the entry fees of the successful applicants. If you are working your way to qualifying to compete at Adelaide and are 21 years of age or younger, please send an email to Adele Godsall (adele.godsall@hotmail.com) outlining your qualification status.

The 2014 State Eventing Championships will be held at Fig Tree Pocket Club on the weekend 4 and 5 October.

Eventing Queensland are providing a award to the competitors who completes this championship event on the lowest penalties. The award will be presented at Eventing Queensland's End of Year Celebration.

Keep an eye on Nominate for the entries to this prestigious event to open. You've got to be in it to win it.

Eventing Queensland is proud of its Champions and its future Champions.

We are looking into providing rugs for these Champions to use of our events and interstate events. We don't want to be boring, we are after all Queenslanders. Put on your thinking caps and come up with a slogan to go on the rugs that will exemplify who and what we are. Our chairman has come up with "Queenslanders – winning from the Top", but I'm sure you can do better than that.

There is a prize of $100 towards your next competition entry to the writer of the winning slogan.

Please send your suggestions to adele.godsall@hotmail.com for Eventing Queensland's consideration

Land transport of livestock code

On 31 January 2014, the Animal Care and Protection Act 2001 was amended to include a compulsory code of practice for transport of livestock to protect the welfare of all livestock being transported. The six month grace period for the new requirements introduced in January expired on 1 August 2014.

For further information contact Biosecurity Queensland on 13 25 23.

The code applies to the transportation of commercial and non-commercial livestock by road, rail, and to livestock transport vehicles aboard a ship.

The transport process begins when livestock are assembled prior to loading, and ends when the livestock are unloaded at the final destination.

Responsibilities outlined in the code apply to everyone involved in the care and management of livestock during the transport process, including: Owners, agents, drivers, transport companies, livestock, handler at farming enterprises, depots, sale yards, feedlots, livestock processing plants.

Key features of the code

Chain of responsibility

The chain of responsibility throughout the transport process is covered in the code. This includes the person supplying the livestock for transport, the transporter and the person receiving the livestock at their final destination.

Livestock selection and fitness

Only livestock that are fit for the intended journey must be presented or loaded for transport. Livestock are not fit for the intended journey if they:

- are unable to walk bearing weight on all legs
- are heavily pregnant
- gave birth within 72 hours prior to loading
- are severely emaciated
- are visibly dehydrated
- are severely distressed or injured
- are suffering a condition that is likely to increase pain or distress during the transport process
- are blind in both eyes.

Water access for livestock

The code sets a maximum number of hours that livestock may go without water during the transport process. As soon as livestock have reached their maximum time they must be spelled and given water, food and the opportunity to rest.

The maximum time off water and minimum spell period varies with the species, age and reproductive status of the livestock.

Class of horse	Maximum time off water (hours)	Minimum spell duration (hours)
Horses known or visually assessed to be between 30 and 43 weeks pregnant	12	12
Horses known or visually assessed to be more than 43 weeks pregnant	4	24
Lactating horses travelling with dependent young	12	12
Horses less than 6 months old	12	12
Any other horse	24	12
